1906 Anniversary Edition 1986

Dear Chelsea—
Aren't you glad we don't have to write any more history emails? Thank God! While we others are suffering in agony, we get to sit in the library and sign yearbooks. Yes, I know, this year was more really special person. I'm glad I had you in my history, English, Chemistry (yuk!) class and have a real friend. Have a great summer and call me 462-8687. Luv ya always.

Dear Chelsea,
I've enjoyed your presence + fun development very much! All the best for a SOAR Senior Year. TV

Chelsea —
I can't believe it's over and we only have one more year to go! I don't know how we survived Chemistry it seemed like we were locked up in that room with him for hours of hours. And you're actually going to MISS him! Have a great SUMMER and see ya next year

LOVE,
Kenya

Chelsea Cochrane

Hey Dr. Chelsea, (as Mr. Vliet would say)
I wish you every success in the future and happiness too. Don't study too hard this summer or it wouldn't be much like a summer at all. This summer will be great and I probably will see you again this summer at University Highschool if I ever turn in my summer-school slip. Don't stop smiling & always remember "Beeler"

Well, we made it through history. I can't believe it. Thanks for keeping me awake and making the class interesting. You're so funny. Next year I know I'm going to see you at the prom, RIGHT? OH SURE!
Well, one more year
& I'm free you'll be there to wake me up in the morning closer.
You're very sweet and nice and I love your very much. Call me during the summer.

Where do you come from?
You arrive with faces all brown and scented with summer
You pale out and draw yourselves fine with theorems, proofs and pinpointing of history poems bounce your minds back to summer and forward to death
middle age, anyway
You weep and laugh and carelessly pick apart the petals of your youth they blow and scatter and only perhaps catch in your memory to be treasured
along with yearbooks and your old report cards
Where do you come from? Do your voices ever really die?
You are so young — there is so much to say — you are here
Such a short time—
the walls only stay sometimes they seem to talk about you

ICE CREAM DAY

Don't you notice the resemblance?

This year's Ice Cream Day was a big success. It was the day when the big and little sisters met for the first time. All of the upper classwomen treated their little sisters to a scoop of ice cream. After eating their ice cream, the big and little sisters ate lunch together and became better acquainted.

Why get another ice cream when I have one right here?

We just love to smile.

Get on with it, our ice cream's melting!

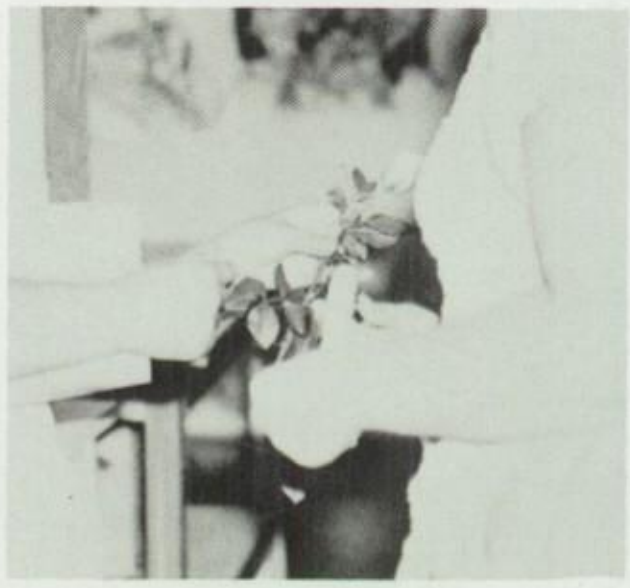
On the count of three, we all scream for "Ice Cream!"

WELCOME DAY SEPTEMBER 27TH, 1985

Singing Togas!!!

Welcome Day began with the inspiring voice of our very own chaplain, Father Rumi Gonzalez in the Welcome day liturgy. The decorative posters displayed on the auditorium walls represented the creative themes of the middle school and high school classes: the 7th grade of the 50's, the 8th grade of the 20's, the FBI Freshmen, the 10th grade Togas, the Jetson Juniors, and the Seniors of the 60's. All the students came in costumes that depicted their theme. Entertainment was provided by the infamous "Poor Man" of KROQ. We danced and ate lunch on the lawn until the day ended.

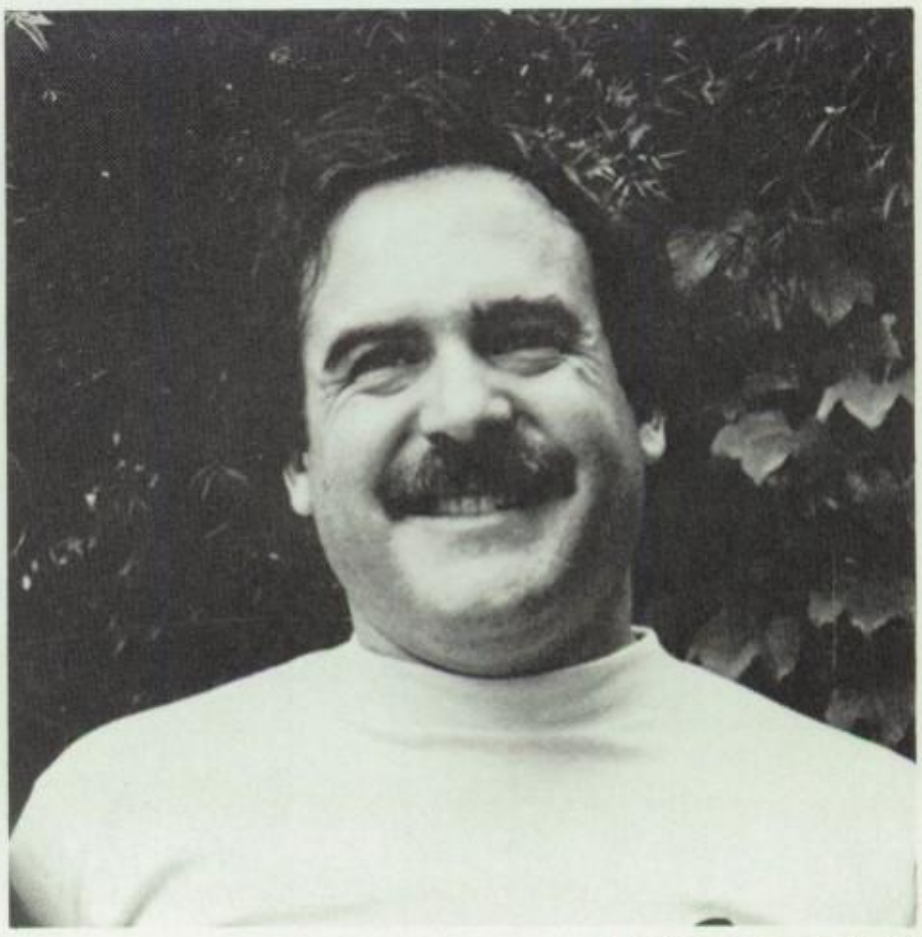
Can you find the seniors in this picture?



The theme was candle light upon the flower.

How well can she dance?

Mary, Angie, Remy, Alyssa, and Ruby know how to show their little sisters a good time.



KROQ's poor man

The tenth grade partied down in togas.

How many Juniors can we fit into this picture?

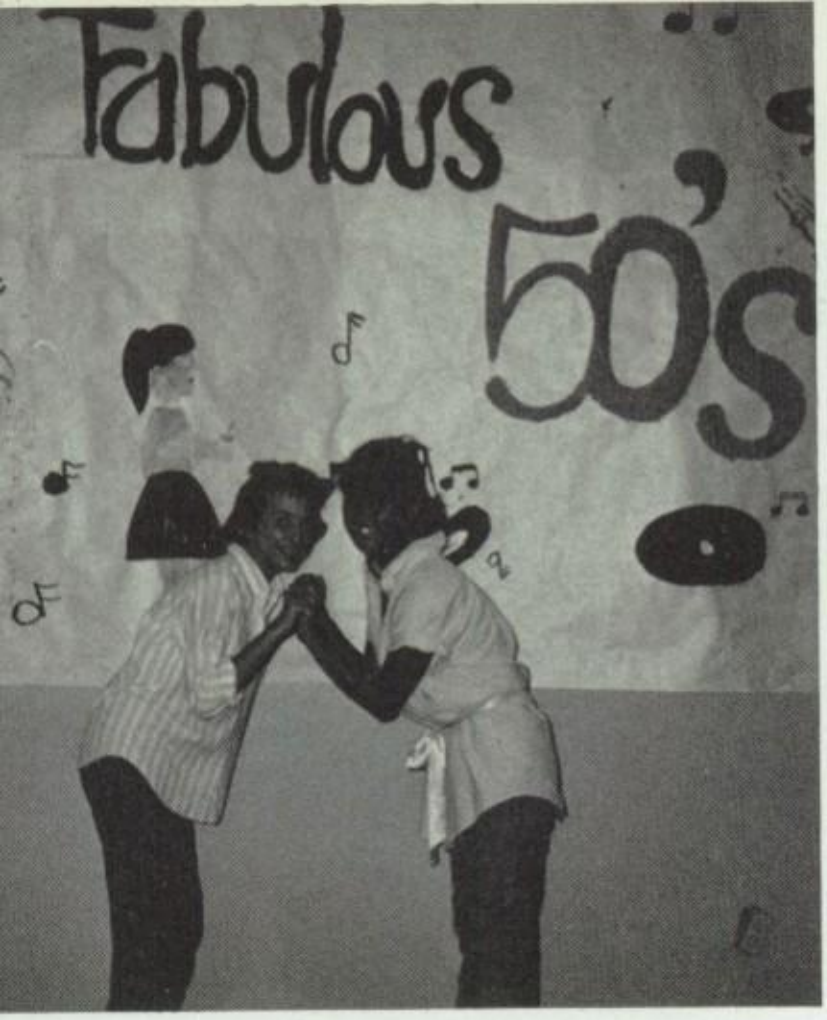
They look toga-ly tired

Yo, dude, what's up?

Blood sisters

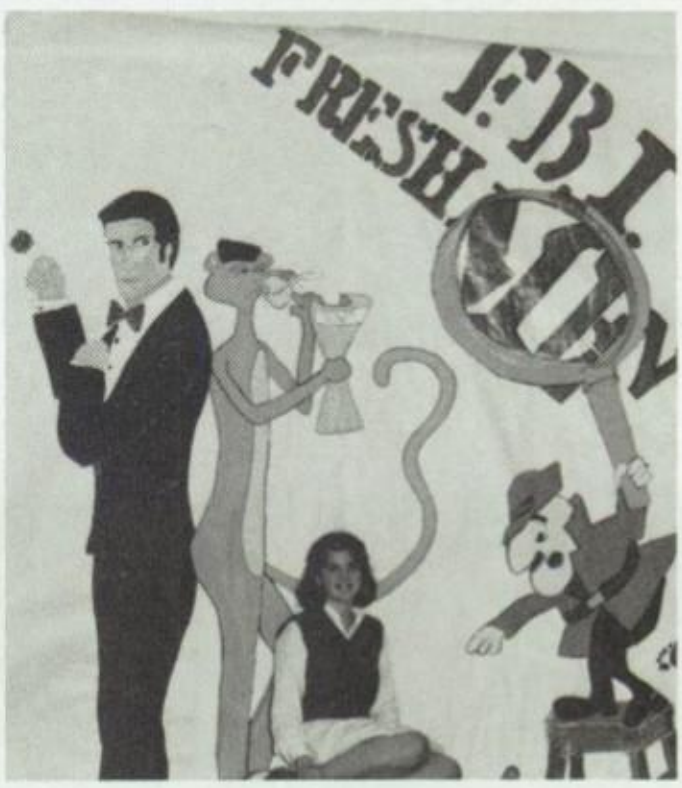
Show us your pearly whites!

Charleston, anyone?



THOSE FABULOUS 7th GRADERS!

PEACE, LOVE, AND HAPPINESS . . .



CAN YOU FIND THE FRESHMAN?

A DAY TO REMEMBER!

I.H. FAMILY DAY

Parents getting indirect responses from their kids about what happens at school finally learned the truth on Family Day. They learned that the trek up Mt. I.H. to religion is breathtaking — not only because of the beauty of the campus; it also shortens one's breath. They also learned that the 5 minute scramble between classes is next to impossible unless one is willing to plow through hoardes of people. And they learned that although the class plan of the year was hard to digest, the teachers really were trying their best. After the tour around campus, parents and students gathered on the lower lawn to visit various booths sponsored by our clubs and the classes and enjoyed a picnic lunch while listening to the jazz band.

Middle-schoolers receive last minute instructions from Penny, the dean.

Alumni and teachers formed the jazz band that played on Family Day.

Walkin' with our walkmen

The 13th annual 10K Walk brought in a GRAND total of $44,000. Thanks to the students, another school van will be purchased. The faculty and students always look forward to the hot dogs, balloons, signs, the loud music on the corner, and, of course, the "WALK holiday." So, all the aches and pains were all worth it!

JUNIOR-SENIOR RING NIGHT

Sing, sing a song, sing out loud, sing out strong!

Reach out and touch . . . somebody's hand.

Ring Night is one of the special events that helped balance out the pressure of the Junior year. With a little fun, it is also the event that makes it hard to distinguish the Juniors from the Seniors. Although after the memorable night filled with a sense of unity, the Seniors didn't seem to mind that much. The atmosphere was full of contagious smiles of joy and excitement. This was all made possible, thanks to the beautiful banners, the loud singing voices, and the slide show featuring the Juniors. The poems brought tears to our eyes and a chill down our backs. Ring Night 1985 proved to be a night truly united in friendship.

I finally got my ring!

JUNIORS

Junior Year was filled with fun and excitement & lots of serious hard work. We were off to a good start with Welcome Day. Being Big Sisters for the first time, we, the Jetson Juniors enthusiastically adopted our little sisters. Before we knew it, Ring Night had arrived. It was a night to remember-upperclassmen at last. Poems were read, tears were shed, and after 87 turns, we thought our fingers would fall off. It was not a year for fun and games; college concerns bombarded us here and there-PSAT's, GPA's everywhere. Just around the corner, candy bars tickled everyone's tongue and tummy as we sold them left to right. Finally, the Prom arrived and it was a glamorous night. Yes, Junior Year, with its hardships and pleasures, was a time to reflect on our past and our future.

Monique and friends

Sophomore year had its good times and bad times. We enjoyed being little sisters again, and most of all, we enjoyed not being Freshmen. Welcome Day was great also. We were "Toga Tenth Graders" and our song, we must admit, was fabulous. This year we felt more comfortable about the school. Sophomore year was also very difficult. It was our first year taking science, and getting an "A" in Charlene's Biology class is not easy. Taking our permit test was challenging. Hopefully, all of us passed it. Anyway, Sophomore year will always be remembered, but we look forward to being Juniors in 1987.

FRESHMEN

Wait! We're not ready!

It's hard to be a freshman!

The best of friends.

Is this going to get in the yearbook?

Jennifer, you're stepping on my foot!

Irene, it's not so bad.

Marlene, modeling our Sue Mills fashions.

Sylvia and Terry: the "perfect" students.

Off to class we go!

Dare me?

Smile, you're on candid camera.

From the beginning of the year, the freshmen are introduced to exciting new concepts that are traditions at I.H.H.S. It all begins with their unpredictable big sisters on Welcome Day, continues with their practical lessons in Critical Thinking and growing experiences at the freshman retreat. It finally ends with the anxiety of finals. All in all, the first year can be the most satisfying: new friend s have been made, new skills learned, and the encouraging fact that next year they get to be sophomores.

P.E. is such fun!

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Freshmen act out that night in Bethlehem.

"The First Noel the angels did say . . ."

One of Immaculate Heart's highlights is its annual Christmas Party. This year, as it was the first day of vacation, everyone showed their Christmas spirit. Our party began with a prayer service in which we expressed our wishes for other countries. Following this, our Christmas spirit was shown through our class songs. Mr. Vliet dedicated his story "The selfish Giant" to the Seniors. Russel, with his wit and creativity, told us what our school would be like without spirit. Mr. Miller and his cast of students, recited letters to his children from Father Christmas. Student Council displayed their talent as they performed their version of "Twas the Night Before Christmas." Finally, with Ruth Anne's closing the Christmas Party helped close the year with a bang.

Besides the dancing, one of the great attractions was the express elevators which took one up to a breathtaking view of the city.

SECTION REPRESENTATIVES

The 1985-86 section representatives did far more than one might suppose. Not only does the section rep read the bulletin everyday, but she serves as a source of communication between the student council and the rest of the student body. The section reps are actively involved and partly responsible for events such as Welcome Day, the Walk, the Christmas party, etc. With the leadership of Gail Gresser and Penny Mertens, all 34 section reps were able to transfer valuable information.

To run or not to run?

This year Immaculate Heart was proud to have a cross country team for the first time. Every day they trained, sweat and got their bodies in shape up in the Los Feliz hills, running a full five miles a day! The team competed against other girls schools and showed their strength and potential to becoming an excellent team. Elexa Williams made the team proud by placing third in a meet against Louisville. Congratulations and keep running!

VALENTINE'S DAY DANCE

How Sweet!

Official Welcoming Committee

an you say "You say yo baby, yo baby,
!"

Who would have thought that the school cafeteria could look nice enough for a dance? Well anyone who attended Immaculate Heart's First Annual Valentine's Dance would certainly agree that the Valentine Dance Committee did a wonderful job. Although Valentine's Night was very stormy, all who attended the dance had a great time dancing and eating mini pizzas prepared by the food committee. It is sure to become an annual event.

How much is this packet going to cost?

WHALE WATCHING

Wow, what a trip!

Thank goodness . . . land!

Veronica, have you seen a whale yet?

Charlene lectures even on the docks.

On February 6, 1986 the Immaculate Heart Biology classes went Whale Watching. To begin with, the weather was very cold and inappropriate for whale watching. They saw many porpoises, but to their dismay, saw no whales. They were able to explore the little Marina Museum, and learn many new things about marine life. The trip was fun, even though some students felt queasy when they got off the boat. All in all, the Whale Watching trip was a very good experience for the students.

CloseUp Foundation

This year's Close-Up trip took 47 students and two teachers to Washington D.C. to get a first hand glimpse of American politics and government. The students participated in numerous seminars on subjects such as the Presidency, the Judiciary and Defense. They visited such places as the Vietnam memorial, Capitol Hill and the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials. In addition to the hard work, students had the opportunity to make many new friends from Southern California, Texas and Louisiana.

SENIOR RETREAT

Kairos means the "right time," and it certainly was the right time fo 30 seniors, 3 juniors, and 4 teachers to learn more about themselves others, and God. The seniors who went on this highly emotional exper- ience were divided into four anima groups; the fish, the doves, the sheep, and the lions. These groups became outlets for love, emotion cherished sharing, and new friend- ships. Each animal group was head- ed by student leaders who guided discussions and inspirational speech- es throughout the week. All in all the Senior Retreat was a great suc- cess, and a must for the class of '87 '88, '89 . . .

SOPHOMORE RETREAT

Reflective moments

Retreats aren't just serious

On retreat

In December, eleven sophomores wen to Lake Arrowhead for the annual retreat Their weekend was spent on thoughts o personal feelings and relationships. New and stronger friendships were also created. Ms Gordon, Fr. Rumi and Mrs. Ponnet acted no only as chaperones, but as participants in the experience.

The Freshman Class Retreat was the perfect opportunity for the students to act as a family. On this day we found out the true meaning of "sisterly love". We had a class liturgy that was entirely prepared by the Freshmen Class. Afterwards, we all ate lunch together and played games.

See what a little teamwork can do?

Friday, Arch Bishop Mahoney came to celebrate a thanksgiving liturgy and to break ground for the new chapel. Saturday and Sunday the festivities continued with the "Alumnae Follies," food booths, slide shows and a family picnic.

Come on guys, join.

Join the club! Math is a lot of fun.

Say "Chips"

Katy and Nicole sell their baked goods.

To enhance the already exciting life of I.H. students, the school provides a wide variety of clubs. Ranging from the G.A.A. to the Genesians, these clubs offer: group activities, bake sales and field trips. By joining a club, the girls have a chance to meet other students in other grades and form long, lasting friendships.

CSF

CSF is an academic organization that goes on one annual field trip. Past trips have been to the County, the Temporary Contemporary, and the J. Paul Getty museum. Last year CSF members went to the County Museum for a special Toulouse-Lautrec exhibit and had their traditional lunch in Beverly Hills.

The Girl's Athletic Association is an organization for all students with athletic ability and enthusiastic minds. It not only enables students to improve their athletic ability, but have fun at the same time. It also helped to encourage school spirit. Many activities, such as volleyball and basketball intramurals and an annual ski trip were offered to every member. G.A.A.'s school dances with D.J.'s such as KROQ's Poorman were another fun aspect of the club. The Pep Club was started this year by Katy Kaffer and Alicia Risk. This Pep Club went to every sports event and cheered on the teams. Their continuous enthusiasm and spirit helped all the teams have a challenging season.

The intention of the Asian Club was to integrate the Asian Cult here at Immaculate Heart. Through annual fund raisers such as fo sales, raffles, and banquets, the members as well as the whole stud body learned more about Asian Customs and celebrations. Althou this club is called the "Asian Club," many of the members were fr many different cultures and backgrounds. Being Asian was no requirement to be in the club.

The IHHS Film Club is designed to let students who have interests working with film, photography, and video learn about these mediu and their role in the entertainment industry. The club also had chance to work in each of the areas and experience their uses in t outside industry as well as in our school. Some of the specific events the year included a trip to a TV show filming, a photography exhib and a complete showing of all the work done by the members of t club.

The Debate club provided an open forum for social, political, and school issues. It encouraged students to develop, organize and state their views in a clear, concise, and logical manner. It promoted a greater awareness and understanding of the views of others.

The Mock Trial Competition was a very unique experience. Students who were on the Immaculate Heart Team were given a hypothetical case to prepare from both the prosecution's and the defendent's point of view. With the case under control, the team arrived at the L.A. County Courthouse in full legal attire to try their case against the other team, as well as an actual judge. The experience exposed the team to thrilling competition, the legal system, and it's policies. The team was also exposed to courtroom decorum. Though preparing the cases was difficult, the many hours of work paid off when the I.H. Mock Trial team triumphantly reached the semi-finals.

GENESIANS

The Genesians have provided many opportunities this past year for students who express themselves through drama. They also had the chance to view movies, plays, and most importantly, the opportunity to work as cast and crew on such drama productions as "Three for the Show" and "Babes in Arms." As the year drew to a close, it was said that "parting is such sweet sorrow!"

This year's Math Club was educational and exciting. They provided tutoring each week for students who needed help. They had several meetings in which they planned their special events such as watching the taping of a game show, parties, and other field trips. The sixteen scholastic seniors who were members of Mu Alpha Theta, the club's scholarship program, received seals imbedded on their diplomas and individual certificates honoring their achievement in Mathematics.

COMPUTER CLUB

With all the enthusiasm found in its members, the Computer Club managed to attend a computer seminar at Santa Monica City College. In addition, the club purchased a new computer program that increased the productivity of the computer department tremendously. In conclusion, this year's Computer Club Board hopes that next year's leaders will be able to get more future members, and make next year's club even more fun and exciting.

DISCOVERY

This year the Discovery club started off with a trip to the Mayan exhibit at the Museum of Natural History. There Discoverers observed the mystical culture of the Mayans and experienced a historical journey back to the 18th century. They also captured the beauty of nature by going on an adventurous naturehike with Cathedral high. In addition, they went to Catalina on a perfect Saturday morning. Lastly, Discoverers experienced modern technology while visiting Magic Mountain. Discovery had a fantastic year thanks to the leadership of Janet Leones and vice president Hilary Coyne.

40/40

The 40/40 Club originally was created with 40 girls volunteering 40 hours of service to Immaculate Heart. This year, the 40/40 Club was a service and high-spirited club designed to represent Immaculate Heart in activities such as assemblies, luncheons, tours, and recruitment functions.

CAMPUS MINISTRY

Campus Ministry is a club that specializes in promoting christianity among students and faculty. It is responsible for planning liturgies, retreats, community activities, and special drives for the needy. The members show their christian leadership through the club's activities such as CIA, Caring Individuals Act, Action Day outs, and soup kitchen.

ADMINISTRATION

Dean of Students
Penny Mertens

Assistant Principals
Virginia Hurst, IHM
Bill Bradfield
Frances Snyder, IHM

Principal
Ruth Anne Murray, IHM

Middle School Director
Rosalie Vukelich

The administration helps keep the entire school community focused on its mission as a catholic school. They formulate school policies and procedures and supervise the faculty and staff in the total program. Most importantly the administration always has a friendly smile for all of us.

ASSISTANTS

Business Office Mgr. Bernadette Manion
Development Fran Primising
Assistant Dean Kathy de Blois
Registrar Elaine Robinson
Development Julie McCormick

The administrative assistants deal with the "more important" affairs at IH, such as dealing with money, fundraising, luncheons, class reunions, transcripts, uniforms, and of course, detention!

SOCIAL STUDIES

Theresa Gillies IHM
Michael Manion
Paul Friedman
Josephine Smith

From computers to calculus, from Darwin to the speed of light, the Math and Science Departments explore with students the natural, physical, and scientific aspects of the world. They help students meet the three year math and science requirements and simultaneously, prepare them for college. The Social Studies Department endeavors to develop in students the study and thinking skills necessary to understand and evaluate people's actions, values, and ideologies. Freshmen learn to think critically, sophomores go back into World History, and the juniors experience U.S. History. Finally, seniors delve into the State of the World.

MATH SCIENCE

FINE ARTS

Don Miller, Rita Velasco, Mark Romano, and Janet Weber.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

I.H. students become aware of their environment in the Art, P.E. and Language classes. Freedom of creative expression is emphasized in the fine arts department and their cultures and customs are studied through the languages. Not only is it important for us to stretch our minds but just ask "Varela", it's so important to keep our bodies physically fit.

RELIGION

Frank Munoz, Wanda Rizzo, Father Rumi, and Dawn Ponnet.

Situated high on the hill, the religion department seeks to inform and guide students in their relationship with God. The freshmen were introduced to the religion program with the general study of Scripture. Sophomores continued to learn about Christianity through the sacraments. Starting with the junior year, students began to relate the Christian philosophy to everyday life, current moral issues, and global concerns. These religious studies contribute to the increased awareness of the students.

ENGLISH

Terence Vliet, Carmen Hill, Virginia Hurst, Gail Gresser, Pam Schachter, and Christine McNamara.

The Immaculate Heart English department is designed to develop students' writing ability as well as their understanding of historical literature. They are exposed to a variety of material ranging from Greek mythology to contemporary novels. By the time students graduate, they have a general knowledge of grammar, plays, poetry, and short stories.

SECRETARIES

Without these wonderful people many important tasks would never get done! Answering the phone ALL day long, looking for books for students, building storage rooms and cleaning our classrooms are just a few of the jobs that these people do to keep the school running. We thank you for all the typed letters, computerized report cards, mimeographs and clean rooms.

THE NEW POOL

Men at Work

Noemi happily remembers the time she was the first to touch the old pool in 1926, While being the first to touch our new 1985 pool.

This pool is great!!!

Making a new splash at IH

The Immaculate Heart Community gathered around a clear blue mirror for a blessing of the new pool. The students huddled with each other to get a glimpse of the new addition to IH. Father Rumi took a deep, red rose, and dipped it in holy water, and shook it over the pool to bless it. Then several IH swimmers dove in and surrounded the bouquet of 80 balloons in the center. The ceremony ended with excitement, shouts and every kind of cheer.

EIGHTH GRADE

Being the "boss" for the last year was very exciting for the eighth graders. They were at the top and no one could destroy the spirit and enthusiasm that spread through the middle school halls. The year was full of learning, growing and playful experiences, highlighted by the long awaited graduation ceremony.

Shana and Maureen catch up on work.

The seventh grade year was a year of hope and new experiences. In the beginning they were at a new school with new teachers and worst of all FIVE classes above them! Seventh graders will always remember the big-little sister activities, locker decorating and whale watching. They look forward to being big sisters themselves and of course FIVE more 10K walks!

THE PEOPLE RESPONSIBLE

Am I doing this right??

This year's staff began hard work as early as September in order to design our yearbook. They survived numerous deadlines, late nights, and "Ralph's" runs (try saying that three times fast!). They fought over orange croppers, borrowed school typewriters, and dreamt of blue layout sheets. Hundreds of pictures were taken and thousands of pictures were lost! (Ha! Just kidding!) Despite the repeated disasters, Rita helped the yearbook staff successfully complete a most unique memory book.

Photographers: V. Herrera, C. Whaley, C. Wong, R. Orrico, N. Teillon, L. Dickie, D. Rincon, J. Ung. Not pictured: R. Young, N. Sugahara, F. DeLeon, N. Diamond, C. McGowan, A. Hudson, B. Kopecky.

Well, guys, this has been quite a year! I really don't know where to start. How about WOW! WOW, what a mind blowing experience for 13 years. It'll be so strange not seeing your faces next year. You've been such a special friend to me & you're my closest friend. And I know we'll keep in touch Jen, but let's promise that we'll do so much to make each other happy. The memories we've shared will be in my ♡ forever. I love you! Michelle, I have known you for 6 years and I think our friendship has been the strongest. Our talks together have meant so much to me. We've had our ups & downs but I know our friendship will last forever. I'm so glad we've been in school together. Thanks for always being there for me. And USA - I would have gotten lost without you. Although I have spent many hours with you for 2 years, our friendship has only improved & I'm glad we've shared a lot, both our good times & bad. Thanks to Junior Achieve & our counselors with special thanks to Mr. Gonzales for always being there for us. Thanks for your support & encouragement. Best of luck to you all in the future. Remember, we're always here for you. Love, Jennifer P.S. GRACIAS ABUELITA, MAMI, ALFONSO por todo lo que me han brindado: felicidad, educación, unión, harmonía, y mas que todo la determinación para sobrevivir y sobrepasar cualquier obstaculo en mi vida. Los quiero muchisimo... BEZOS Y ABRAZOS.

HEY, YOU GUYS, you know who you are... I LOVE U! High School has been more than I imagined it to be, and I can't imagine it without a single one of you. The memories and friendships with all of you will remain in my heart and in my soul forever. You have made, at times, my life both a mess and a revelation. Now, we must take our lives in our hands... ♥ your G.A.A.

Chelsea,
Only you would give me a red pen that with black ink; I was expecting rights (Did I spell that wrong?!) red, of course! Well, you're without a doubt the most unique friend I've ever had!!! I had lots of fun with you on close-up. You actually made sharing a room with Liz bearable! sitting in the library at lunch just wouldn't have been the same without you. I just loved sweating over Biology and watching you leisurely read the newspaper! But I must admit, babe, you have put up with a lot! I mean, not just anyone would listen to about JIMMY PAGE (he wasn't bloated...he was gorgeous!!) And the best thing was having someone to talk to (Did you feel like it?!) Anyway, for that and everything else, I thank you (How would I have gotten through Algebra w/out me to shut up! The help of your pencils & erasers!) Lots of love & have a great summer!

PS HAVE fun ~~sol~~ Depesto!

Elicia

Chelsea
Yours a Fabulous

hi Chelsea, guess who? huh! what! i don't know why i wrote that but anyway do i ever know what im doing.
ims glad we had section together was obnoxously fun! & iim glad we had algebra together (except i wish we didn't have algebra at all!) anyway glad we got close this year & this summer even closer (especially at the Depeche Mode concert & summer school (look out VCLA!) anyway i think you are too wild & rellow out a bit) might give yourself a heart attack! okay?! anyway i don't know what else to write im still 1/2 asleep & see!

P.S. save this page i might think up something brilliant huh! & you thought i wrote messy)

J.K. i finish this page 4 you like i said i would & send those people who wrote on this page. you know you should of thought i would abandon it but me & Vanessa would have a great time together. gotta finish page 1/6

Chelsea, I'm
It's been fun over these years
i isn't! stay sweet but don't set too sweet. I mean what would Adam think?
P.S. Don't
even say it!
S.K.

dear chelsea, well If you heard a noise in the night, it's only me stealing your tickets. and when you're a senior (tamarro) you better be good cause it's fresh, soph & jr. against you.

I should be studying for my French final but I have no clue
notes as what's the use!
the one's for algebra didn't help ha! ha! these tests are getting such as the years go by ... Seniors !!!!
Can you believe it - I'm a 4th year of hating each other :)
we t'aime pas pare gabe tu es, no bete amie - I know my French is lousy - I hate all these victims of me in this history class - although I'm cart if you want to. Paid attention, maybe I should cut 'em we never Algebra was dumb, we started out w/ A's and that dress! and a flunked final! I loved English - of course hid up w/ C's and I'm never got yelled at, well this is so we sat in the front a never because I have this urge to perfect - this is going to be long ... I know I'm weird. Oh write over the faces on this picture - you stopped writing you still think I'm a snob? I'm hungry ... how's Fall okay. I'm stalling - I can't think of anything else to say - something good -
-oh you started again - good bitch write my hand hurts. I'm still hungry. I can't believe it - no more Chemistry but I'm really gonna miss can you still read my writing Sean can come on class day. I can't wait for the One every now & then at the lab - can't hang up & get trying to be very messy! I hope you can go License & a car & a disaster as we can Adam going out ~~xxx~~ Why are you writing Yearbook - yes I packed. Idk Jive almost filled up
I hope I'm done soon! Unfortunately, will have classes English, Physics (I hope) whatever else you fucked up schedule puts together. I think this yearbook is great & so are you but I'm on drugs so don't grade "he" you" be w/ Vanessa & you can come on class day. I can't wait for the One concert you stay home. I can't believe it - no more Vanessa take me to a good letter, or pain & tears, around & when I see ya! See ya in a good mood you oh well I'll stop writing - you are such a bitch!
Love ya
Dawn
